BEE HIVE WEEK

AIR 6 - MAY 2

Next week is Bee Hive Week. We want everyone to be Bee Hive conscious and keep in mind what the girls are accomplishing.

The name Bee Hive Girls is taken from the story of Mother Goose, "The Old Man and the Sea." These little insects are unselfish and industrious and they work all their lives for the good of the community and each other.

There are three groups of girls, the "The Builders in the Hive", the "The Gatherers of the Honey" and the "Guardians of the Treasure".

The work in seven different fields of life, there is the field of religion, in this field they become familiar with the scriptures and fill cells that make them grow spiritually. In the field of home they learn to do house work and to cook. In Arts and Crafts they are encouraged to sew and do their work. In Public Service they do a daily good turn and become mindful of the public good. In the field of health they are given simple health rules of diet and exercises in a healthful way to control communicable diseases and the treatment and prevention of common colds. In the field of finances they learn to pay and to budget their money for personal necessities and to be thrifty in the field of Out of Doors they learn much about plants and trees and biological features, how to make a fire and cook a meal in the open.

I have only mentioned a few of the cells they fill in each field. Every girl fills four cells and our honor cells in the first two years, making eight cells in each field. In the third year they fill a project in all seven fields and then the year an honor badge in every field. Each represents twelve hours work.

Please back the Bee Hive work. It comes to your girls at a critical time in their lives, at a time when these girls are entering the threshold of womanhood. It is at this period of their lives that they are forming their ideals. The ideals they form in their Bee Hive years are likely to be carried throughout their whole life.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Adams and son Dennis of New Dayton will make their new home in Lethbridge.

Mrs. Norman Morrison entertained a few ladies on Thursday. The hostess served a lunch.

The Golden Grain Girls Club annual meeting will be held at the home of Miss Noreen Kamp on April 28th.

Miss Guila Robinson returned to Lethbridge after spending the past week with Mr. and Mrs. William Beaton.

Miss Mary Kamp and Mrs. Emery and her daughter Betty June of Cardston were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Kamp and family for the past week end.

Mr. D. Robinson of Lethbridge is a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Beaton.

C.P.R. SPEEDS TICKETING

G.A. McNamara, vice president of traffic for the Canadian Pacific Railway, is just issued a new ticket issuing and accounting machine, the first of its kind on the North American continent, which went into service at the C.P.R.'s Windsor station in Montreal recently. The machine prints its own tickets when the ticket seller inserts a match, such as Mr. McNamara holds in his left hand, into the slot on the lower right hand corner. In his right hand Mr. McNamara holds a ticket that the machine has just issued. The bottom picture of one of the coach tickets the machine issues shows how much more compact it is than the type of coach ticket at the right. As well as speed in ticket sales, the machine keeps full accounting records. Installation of the machine in other main C.P. centres across Canada depends upon the success of the machine in its initial performance in Windsor station, which was picked for the introduction because of the volume of business handled there. It is expected that the machine will be able to handle 90% of the coach tickets issued there, and tickets will be issued in practically all C.P. points within 24 hours traveling time of Montreal.

THE ANDERSON BROTHERS

Pioneer Masons and Bricklayers
John Forbes Anderson came to Raymond May 13, 1902. The following month, June 8th, according to an old record, "John F. Anderson, his wife Mary, his son John and Louis H. King and wife Elizabeth were made members of the Raymond ward."

At this time the ward was but seven months old and new members were being added each Sunday.

J. F. Anderson was a stone mason and bricklayer and was kept busy laying foundations for homes which were rapidly going up all over the new town. He laid the foundation for the Ellison Mill and was overseer of all mason work done on the sugar factory.

He and his family were the first to live in a brick house in Raymond. This brick house still stands and is at present occupied by the Milton Litchfield family.

John Anderson Jr. lived there for some time after his father moved to Cardston about 1911. Leonard Carter occupied this house a short time. The Taylor Stake was created Aug. 30, 1903 and on September 1st, a special conference was held in the Town hall where the Taylor Stake organization was completed.

The dividing line between the Alberta and Taylor Stake was agreed upon with the west limit of the Taylor stake being established on a running line north and south midway between Spring Coulee and Macraeth. Later land was granted north of Spring Coulee and east of St. Mary's river to the Taylor Stake.

Mr. Anderson was chosen bishop of the new Stake and chose as his counselors J.W. Evans and A.E. Fawns. High Councilmen were also chosen. Bishop Anderson took charge of his first meeting, September 6, 1903. The following October George T. Wilde became ward clerk. The new bishop immediately began to make plans for the erection of a larger meeting house. People donated liberally. It was a hard job and finally the ward officers met and decided on a carnival which brought in $650.00 toward the chapel which when finished ranked as one of the best in southern Alberta. Seating capacity, 1000 people.

In 1904 A. E. Fawns was called to Stirling as bishop and H. C. Jacobs succeeded him as second counselor.

In 1908 Arthur Dahl was sustained as counselor, succeeding H. C. Jacobs. In 1912 the Raymond ward was divided and John F. Anderson was made bishop of the first ward with J. G. Alfred and William Redd as counselors. J.W. Evans was made bishop of the 2nd ward and L. D. King and J. H. Walker were his counselors. In 1911 Bishop Anderson moved to Card ston and James E. Ellison was sustained bishop with J.G. Alfred and William Redd counselors. For many years John F. Anderson has worked in the Cardston Temple. He is 86 yrs old and is still active. His wife passed away several years ago.

While in Raymond "Aunt Mary" was very active in church capacities especially Relief Society. On October 5th she was sustained counselor to Lorena Rodeback.

Mr. Anderson recently remarked: "I was in the meeting when Apostle Taylor prophesied the time would come when we would breakfast in Raymond and supper in Salt Lake." At that time the mode of travel was horse and buggy.

JAMES S. ANDERSON

James S. Anderson came to Raymond in February 1903. His wife Zilpha C. and children came in July. James S. Anderson, like his brother John was a stone mason and brick layer. When he was but 12 years of age he went to work at his father's side in an Aberdeen stone quarry where he learned the art of stone cutting.

He laid many foundations for homes in the early days of Raymond. He, with T. B. Strong, George Court his brother John and others began work on the new factory and stayed on the job until the factory was finished.

When H. S. Allen's brick home was built James S. did all the stone work and many years later Mr. Anderson was visiting at the Allen home when Mr. Allen turned to him and said: "Brother Anderson do you remember when you cut these stones over the doors and windows? Well that was a long time ago and as you can see there is not a single crack anywhere. It is as perfect today as it was then, I call that expert workmanship."

When the second ward chapel was built Mr. Anderson helped to the tune of hundreds of dollars in labor and money.

When the Stake House was built he worked on that. He also worked on the Picture Battle Sugar Factory with George Fairbanks, C.B. Strong and son Milton. When the Cardston Temple was under construction he cut stone for it all one summer.

During all those years as a mason he also worked on his farm but busy as he was he always had time for his many responsibilities in his church. For 59 years he taught a class in Sunday school. Upon resigning a party was given in his honor for his long service. For twelve years he was president of the Taylor Stake Home Missionary work.

In 1919 James S. Anderson and wife sent Verna and Amon on a mission the same day. They labored in the western States mission. Mr. Anderson filled a two year mission to his native Scotland. He received his call May 27, 1891. It is very interesting to relate that Mr. Anderson has written the Book of Mormon in verse form which contains approximately 5,000 verses and is in the same sequence as the original prose.

William, the only living child resides in Raymond and has always been very active in civic and church affairs. At one time he was superintendent of the 2nd ward M.I.A., a member of the Stake Board M.I.A. and at present is Stake Clerk.

James S. Anderson is nearly 80 years old and is active and in good health.

SYMBOLS OF SAFETY

When fire strikes, the red and white fire alarm box looms as an urgent symbol of safety. It's a modern safety device that protects your home and your property. Another modern symbol of safety is your Provincial Treasury Branch. It's as permanent as Alberta itself!

IT'S A GOOD IDEA TO INSURE!

Better protection for fire than an alarm box, is an Alberta Government Fire Insurance policy. See your local Treasury Branch for rates.

BUDGET MAY BE TIP OFF

With the political talk along Parliament Hill seemingly becoming more and more intensified lately, veteran and impartial observers are now hinting that when the Canadian Government's coming annual budget is presented in the House of Commons by finance minister Abbott, shortly, there may be a tip-off whether or not there will be a general election in this country late this year. This being based on the theory that important tax cuts might prove informative on this "hot" question.

It is known that the Government's surplus at the end of the present fiscal year is going to be about $800,000,000 or so, with finance minister Abbott having said that it may be "of such magnitude as to bring a glow to the heart of any Canadian Minister of finance". However it is also known in well-informed quarters here that powerful inflationary pressures would be released if drastic tax cuts were made at this time. As a result, no really sharp all-round tax cuts such as anticipated by the man in the street, might be forthcoming except under one condition namely, if the government expected to appeal to the people in a general election this year. Under these conditions aside from possible elimination or reduction of so-called "nuisance taxes" including the eight per cent sales tax and minor changes here or there, any sweeping tax cuts could be interpreted as a tip-off to an early appeal to the people.

WHAT IS BEHIND THE ORDER

Following the petition from the Transportation Commission of the Maritime Board of Trade and representations made on behalf of the Governments of Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia together with a flood of protests by members of the House of Commons two important orders-in-council PC 1486 and 1487 have been tabled giving effect to a decision of the Canadian Government to order a "thorough investigation of the rate structure of railways and railway companies which are under the jurisdiction of Parliament with a view to the establishment of a fair and reasonable rate structure which will under substantially similar circumstances and conditions be equal in its application to all persons and localities so as to permit the freest possible exchange of commodities between the various provinces and territories of Canada and the extension of Canadian trade, both foreign and domestic, having due regard to the needs of agriculture and other basic industries."

In other words, this means that the Board of Transport Commissioners are now in a position, for the first time in 23 years, to look into the general freight rate structure across Canada with the object of removing inequalities, not to pass a judgement on their recent decision about higher rates for the railways. There seems to be a false impression among many Canadians that the 18-month inquiry which led to the decision favoring higher rates had investigated the inequalities. This is not true. The recent inquiry did not consider or deal in any way with the matter of any existing inequalities or differentials in freight rates between various sections of this country.

Furthermore, it is learned here that there is no way, at the moment of knowing how long the new inquiry will take, that no Royal Commission could carry out such a freight rate structure study since under the Railway act, there is a section that requires the Board to do so unless an amendment is passed, Parliament allowing a change thereby in the procedure, that under the terms of reference in the new order in council authorizing the latest inquiry "mountain differential" can be investigated, that this new inquiry will be a thorough investigation of all freight rates.

NO INTERRUPTION

For some time now rumor after rumor has been heard about financial difficulties between Britain and Canada likely interrupting the export of food from this country to the United Kingdom. However it is understood here that not only will a satisfactory financial arrangement allow existing food contracts between the two countries to be carried out but it is recognized here that Canada should not in any way discontinue shipments into the United Kingdom, even temporarily which may force the people of Britain to cut down on their already pretty low rations.

Obviously, much of the unauthorized stories about financial difficulties leading to serious curtailment of food shipments from Canada to Britain this year are not well-founded, judging from information gathered along Parliament Hill where it is evident that there is no intention to interrupt such essential food shipments.

FOR BETTER OR WORSE?

With a report here indicating that for the eighth successive year there has been an increase in the number of divorces granted in Canada, numbering 7,942 in the past year or 259 more than the preceding year, there are heard on Parliament Hill all sorts of comments about this development though the most frequent is

costs money

It costs you more to live these days.

And it costs your bank more to provide efficient banking service.

Bank staffs are more than half as large again as before the war; payrolls have nearly doubled. Taxes are up. So is the cost of everything banks buy.

Yet you pay no more for banking service than you did ten years ago. Today 7,000,000 Canadians are bank customers—striking evidence of the ever-widening usefulness of competitive banking in our national life.

SAVES YOU TIME—You will find that a few minutes a week keeps your Farm Account Book up-to-date. The first 15 pages of your new Farm Account Book tell a straight story about what is required from farmers. Your problems are dealt with in question and answer form and an index refers you quickly to the section you want. The pages and columns for accounts are numbered to correspond with the items on the Income Tax Return form itself. You can make an accurate record of all farm dealings as you go along.

SAVES MONEY BY SHOWING YOU HOW—Every farmer legally is entitled to deductions for a wide variety of expenses. Your Farm Account Book has 12 pages devoted to columns for these. You are reminded of items which otherwise you might forget. Depreciation, a big factor, is covered on 75 named articles in common farm use.

You are shown how to establish claims for a Basic Herd and make a Three-Year-Average of your returns. This latter gives you the advantage of the lowest possible tax and it may be dated back to 1946. These are direct money-saving advantages entirely to your benefit.

THE THREE YEAR AVERAGE

You can't lose if you take advantage of this. Two things are necessary to average your income over the three year period ending December 31, 1948. First your 1947 return MUST BE FILED ON TIME—that is, by April 30, 1948. Then when you file your 1948 return in 1949 you may make application to average your income for 1946-1947-1948. This averaging of income continues yearly so that in each year you are taxed only on the average of each three year period.

REMEMBER — HALF CULTIVATED LAND YIELDS A POOR CROP—HALF KEPT ACCOUNTS GIVE POOR RESULTS TOO

Last year Canadian farmers—and there are nearly a million of them—produced over $2,000,000,000 in farm produce of all kinds. No other single industry approaches agriculture in volume of production. And as in every other business—even the smallest—every farmer must file an account of his transactions with the Department of National Revenue to qualify for the many tax exemptions which are allowed.

by R. J. Deachman

If a man's thoughts and writings reveal his mind, and he is a hypocrite if they do not, then we ought to be able to judge his character solely upon these guides.

Henry Wallace is a candidate for the presidency of the United States. He is a third candidate, a left wing gentleman, extremely left. Here is the way he measures the present democratic party of which he was once a member. His story appeared in the New Republic of March 29, 1948. Mr. Wallace is the editor of that publication. Writing of his former friends he used these words:

"I am inclined to take the big brass and solid gold of Washington seriously. In a narrow, stubborn way they are intelligent and they know exactly where they want to go.

"They are out to set up an American version of the police state. In this country as a necessary part of gaining control of the entire world. As a result of maintaining war hysteria at a high pitch, they are holding to gain many things that were not listed in the President's speech."

Here Wallace is judging President Truman, who, this moment, would sooner have peace than anything else in the world, charging him with creating war hysteria to gain many things not listed in his platform.

He then goes on to say:

"Undoubtedly they, (the big interests), want several billion dollars more appropriated for the aircraft industry.

"Soon they will be moving for the re-establishment of presidential war powers and the declaration of a state of national emergency.

"Simultaneously they will seek to end all drives of labor for higher pay while at the same time the profits of big corporations will be mounting because of huge military appropriations."

The final note is this:

"They are using the national emergency as a cloak under which they can restrict civil liberties of all those who do not believe in the present drift toward war. They can use the emergency which they are attempting to create as an excuse for repudiating enforcement of the partition of Palestine."

Wallace of course, is a third party candidate. He holds the position in the United States somewhat similar to that which Mr. Goldwell holds in Canada. What would we think of Mr. Goldwell or an other third candidate in this country if he used language such as Mr. Wallace has here used in criticism of the other parties?

How is it possible for a man like Wallace who has had a wide experience in politics and business to make statements such as these. How can he believe that such men as Truman, Marshall, Vandenberg, and most of the leading men in politics are simply stool pigeons for those who want another war?

Truman is faced with a tremendous responsibility. As things stand today there seems nothing surer than that Communist Russia, unless restrained by the desire for freedom in the hearts and minds of the people of Western Europe and America, will some day dominate Europe. It will then be in a position to begin a campaign for the ultimate domination of the whole world. Wallace apparently believes that if he were in power all this could be handled simply by refusal to prepare for 'The Day.'

No modern democracy wants war. Who thinks, for one moment, that the Russian people are anxious for war? I for one do not but the people of Russia have no control over their own government. There is neither freedom of discussion, nor choice of candidate. The people do as they are told and under that form of government there is no freedom, no hope, no peace.

Lethbridge Experimental Station WEEKLY LETTER

BUILDING UP DEPLETED FEED RESERVES

Reports from many areas, particularly outside of the main chinook belt indicate heavy livestock losses owing to the prolonged winter weather and accompanying feed shortages. reserves had been reduced during the preceding winter. Conditions are described by some old timers as being worse than the winter of 1919-20.

The absence of straw stacks on most farms now has no doubt helped to make conditions worse as compared to twenty-eight years ago. Straw is by no means an ideal food and especially wheat or rye straw but a straw stack is better than a snow bank.

There is not much that can be done now about the losses that have occurred, nevertheless many farmers and stockmen are no doubt giving serious thought to working out a way of providing some insurance against a possible feed shortage in the future.

The straw stack is largely a thing of the past but fortunately there are ways and means of producing much better winter feed throughout this area. Two ways particularly deserve mention at this time. One is the use of cereal hays and the other is greater use of run-off through small irrigation projects.

Tests with cereals for hay production have been conducted at the District Experimental Substations in Southern Alberta for the past seven years. In the higher rainfall areas of Pincher Creek and Claresholm, oats have proven to be the best hay crop in the dryer areas spring rye has out-yielded all other cereals in unfavourable years, and spring rye has been grown extensively for feed on the low rainfall substations at Whittle Acre and Lomond.

Wheat may be used in any of these areas but there is too much temptation to harvest this crop for grain instead of cutting it for hay. Cereals to be used for hay should be seeded on fallow and seeded early in order to get full benefit of all moisture available.

Fuller use of the 700 or more small irrigation projects in southern Alberta would no doubt help very much in building up depleted reserves and also in maintaining them during periods of drought.

Projects that may have been allowed to fall into disrepair during the years of heavier rainfall are not likely to be of any use when drought hits. Moreover the development of all additional feasible projects would seem logical in order to establish a more secure agriculture throughout this region.

The P.F.R.A. water development program is still in effect and anyone planning any small water development work should get in touch with the Prairie Farm Rehabilitation office in Regina.

but this is an aftermath of war's effects on family life. Meanwhile, motion to broaden the grounds for divorce in Canada is still on the House of Commons order paper but now there is little hope that this could pass the debate stage under prevailing conditions which saw one out of every 13 marriage end in a divorce during the past year.

COMMUNISM AND DLEO

It is certain now that the House of Commons will air two private members bills about which there has been so much talk in this capital. One is a bill to ban the Communist party in Canada. The other is a bill which would legalize the sale, manufacture and import of oleomargarine. This was disclosed when members protested a move that would have given the government's business procedure for an indefinite time and assurance was offered by a speaker for the government that these bills will be discussed.

AID IN THE CAPITAL

"I know of no government action in this direction," said Trade Minister Howe in reference to rumors about gasoline rationing.

"I suggest that these puny increases will not bring much of a glow to the heart of old soldiers," commented Maj. Gen. G. R. Pearkes, VC MP on the newly announced increases for veterans of world war I who are in need.

"We don't know what the cause is but we are hoping to educate the parents in helping reduce the alarming increase in dental decay among our school children," declared Dr. L. B. Pett, Chief of the Nutritional Division of the Health and Welfare Department of the Canadian government.

"Politically we must be strong enough and courageous enough to make a just contribution to the defence that is necessary to prevent war," said Hon. John Bracken, Progressive Conservative leader during an address here.

"Lumber now is plentiful" stated Maj. Gen. H. A. Young of the Crown owned Central Mortgage and Housing Corp. adding an optimistic note on housing by saying that many of the bottlenecks of late 1946 and 1947 that caused delays in building have now been overcome.

"If cancer can be treated within the first month, the patient stands a good chance," remarked Dr. C. C. Ross, well-known Canadian surgeon during a speech here, "but if he waits five or six months before visiting a doctor his chances are much slimmer."

WEEKLY WIND-UP

When the question was asked in the House of Commons why the government has not fixed the three coming by-elections for the same day instead on two separate days Premier King merely stated that "The Government thought it more advisable for the Yale by-election to be held first."

Ever since the Marshall plan for European economic recovery was passed in the U.S. salesmen from all parts of Canada have come to Ottawa with offers to sell, but it is learned here that only certain essential items like foodstuffs, farm machines, etc. are needed as part of Canada's share in the scheme so that there need be no "rush" to get orders here.

The wife of the Greek Ambassador to Canada, Mrs. Constantine Sakellaropoulos, told a meeting here that the embassy had been informed that thousands of unfortunate children are being kidnapped by Greek guerrillas and taken across the border.

The action by U.S. Government in ordering the war assets corporation to hold up sales of surplus material will not necessarily be followed in Canada, it is learned here with one of the main reasons being what the War Assets Corp has practically disposed of all its assets.

The suggestion has been made in the House of Commons that decentralizing of parliamentary ridings in Canada should be done by an independent commission as redistribution is handled in Britain, South Africa and New Zealand.

It is understood here that an appeal against the freight rate increases would not mean automatic suspension of the Board of Transport Commissioners' order.

Montreal jewelers testifying before the Prices Committee of the

GASOLINE TAX YIELD TO EXCEED $7,200,000

Alberta motorists contributed approximately $7,200,000 to the provincial treasury during the year ended March 31 in fuel oil or gasoline tax, according to information received by the Alberta Motor Association. This was an increase of more than $1,000,000 over the previous year.

The main reason for the record revenue during the past year was the increase in the gasoline tax from seven to nine cents per gallon. When the additional tax was decided upon the government announced that the revenue from this increase would be used specifically for hard surfacing of main highways.

Last year the province voted $13 and a half million for its highway expenditures and a similar sum has been provided for the current year. Thus it will be seen that more than half of this revenue is obtained from the gasoline tax.

On the whole the government is spending more on highways than what it collects in revenues from motorists, including car licenses.

This policy has been commended by the A.M.A. which has urged that it be continued.

Since 1938 this is the eleventh subsequent year that the first aid classes at Raymond have been organized and brought to a successful conclusion. The lectures and practical work were commenced on February 16th and continued twice a week until April 12th when all those, qualified by regular attendance, were examined by Dr. J. H. Walker, whose support the local first aiders have enjoyed for years. As previously the entire work was carried out under the auspices of the St. John Ambulance Association, and was brought about through encouragement and support of the management of the Sugar Company and the Factory Safety Committee. John Landysheff, Chief Chemist of the Canadian Sugar Factories and local representative of the St. John Ambulance Association was again a lecturer-instructor of the classes. Although the total enrollment was as high as 53 only 35 were admitted to examination. Following the exam, as a token of appreciation of the work done by the instructor and the examiner presentation, on behalf of the class was made by John Hunsley to both parties. Dr. Walker in his comments on the results, intimated that all examined have successfully passed the examination and that he considers them, particularly the senior members of the class, well qualified for first aid work. It is of interest to note that during one of the last lectures, the versatility of Art Atwood's Fletcher was demonstrated before the class by the inventor, Art Atwood. It is gratifying to note that the reorganized first aid teams of the sugar factory entered again in the Dominion First Aid Competitions sponsored by the St. John Ambulance Association. Training of 14-P unit will continue until May 10th, when Mr. Bennett, Executive Head of the Order of St. John will arrive in Raymond to examine the team and thus to evaluate its standing among the industrial teams competing across Canada. The sugar factory team while in Dominion competition last year, brought honor upon the factory and town by winning a second place among the standings of the industrial teams of the whole Province of Alta.
